DEDICATION

Bricks, mortar and people make up a school. People are, without question, the most important. Student-people are even more special – for it is they who hold the future. They will be instrumental in shaping the new world – staying, hopefully forever, the approach of 1984. In recognition of this great burden – we dedicate – ARGUS '69 – to the students of Essex District High School.

Mr. P. J. Vandervoort

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

To be a success in life, one must succeed for nothing is more conducive to success than success. On the other hand, if efforts are repeatedly rewarded by failures, a person will develop a failure complex, a self-image, which has the tendency to perpetuate failure.

It would seem, therefore, that we should not undertake endeavours beyond our reach. The only danger in this course is, that we may become so fearful of failure, that our goals may fall far below our potential.

To ensure that our undertakings are equal to our abilities and worthy of our very best efforts, we must critically analyze our performance, so that revisions can be made either to more demanding or to less demanding objectives.

However, it is not always easy to pattern our life to matters which guarantee success. Others who have a deep concern for our future may pressure us beyond our capabilities. I can only hope that these well meaning individuals will recognize the importance of a success-image for a self-image.

In spite of all that has been said here, I must stress that success very often depends upon the effort expended. Remember this! Work hard and success will be yours.

Mr. Alles

VICE-PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

I speak as a neophyte at Essex District High School and because of this perhaps I can more objectively see the school as it really is.

One hears much these days about school spirit. I can honestly say that the spirit here is better than in any of the schools where I previously worked. This is not simply because of the athletic prowess such as that shown by the Red Raiders in their nine straight wins including the S.W.O.S.S.A. championship. School spirit has to do with each student doing his part both on and off campus in terms of honesty, industry, and courtesy.

Further, the calibre of teaching found at Essex is as good as can be found anywhere in Ontario. In terms of academic qualifications alone, Essex has more teachers with M.A. degrees than any of the four high schools I have worked in. The real gauge of good teaching, however, is the concern which the teacher feels for his pupil. Put two of your teachers together under almost any circumstances and chances are the conversation will turn, sooner or later, to you. Teachers wouldn't talk about you and your progress if they were not concerned about you.

Finally, the student body itself is worthy of commendation. It is true, that as Vice-Principal, I spend much time dealing with the small minority of the school — the truant, the disturber, and the delinquent. However, I must agree wholeheartedly with my predecessor who described Essex students as "gracious and well groomed...with a respected province-wide reputation."

As the song says, "Essex is a grand old school."

Change and growth are symphonic. Just as the little one room schoolhouse gave way to the complex modern institution, so also the little one school School Board gave way, this year, to the complex County Board of Education. The size, hopefully, will allow a more equitable tax base without diminishing the quality of education. One caution must be voiced: In the face of anonymity, we must demand that the individual student be recognized as a person.

The purpose of our yearbook is to keep in your mind the events of this year. In it we hope to provoke future memories that may remind you of the joys and agonies of adolescence. Perhaps, then, when you face the tribulations of your future life you can temper your harsher judgments and provide meaningful guidance through the reminiscences of times passed.

When at the end of one road and the start of another, Walt Whitman's
Song of the Open Road is of utmost importance.

From this hour I ordain myself loos'd of limits and imaginary lines,
Going where I list, my own master total and absolute,
Listening to others, considering well what they say,
Pausing, searching, receiving, contemplating,
Gently, but with undeniable will, divesting myself of the holds that would hold me.

I inhale great draughts of space,
The east and the west are mine, and the north and the south are mine.

I am larger, better than I thought,
I did not know I held so much goodness.

All seems beautiful to me,
I can repeat over to men and women You have done such good to me
I would do the same to you,
I will recruit for myself and you as I go,

Walt Whitman

Have I Life?

Man of many visions
Appearing, disappearing, reappearing
As a master's hand a pen commands
Dictating a life's decisions

Making a portfolio?
How can life be so short
That it be condensed
And published to go —

To go on sale on a real bookstand,
Where men search for their lives
Knowingly or unknowingly
If they could just band

Together they might live a time,
Find identity of some kind,
A mind "trouver d'amour"
Or at least peace, like thine.

Scorn him all ye prophets
Who would live on a dead prediction.
Gentle vultures, you are forgiven
By an old man who has life yet.

S. Malenfant

Only Time Will Tell

Now that my younger years are gone,
I count my hours from dusk to dawn;
Every hour, every minute, every second —
I feel my life is . . . beckoned.

The chills! My mind is wandering,
When will the end come?
After failure, success, and then no more —
My mind is dull with age.

The waiting, the shock, the mere suspense,
The very end is nigh;
To throw myself upon the rocks —
The soundest way to die.

Dennis Sweet

I live not for me, but for the people . . .

I suppose to live for myself would be wrong now.
To change would be too much, too hard.
And to what? I have forgotten how to be myself.
I am old, tired, worn
But still my voice is there among the old
recollections,
Heard by the people who need to be reassured
And by those who talk to destroy.
I am there, I am there.
I have lived, experienced, seen, and lost,
Myself but not my soul.
But soon, I fear that too,
Shall I wait?

Don Maedel

GREEN GRASS SMOKES

I am here to do my thing
But I dream of better things to come.
When time has past and I
Look back, I see my thing undone.

Jim McFarlane

4:00 A.M.

Outside it's cool.
Inside there are
Drums pounding Hendrix
Guitars bouncing psyche
Fuzz box reverberations
Off the walls.

Long-haired
Friendly people,
Wearing
Thick turtleneck sweaters and
Eighteen dollar shades.
The wall of sound
Absorbed by one and all
In a comfortable blue haze
Floating lazily, suspended in mid-air,
Adding to the easy, sophisticated
Atmosphere.

Standing over by the door
The chick in the pink flower miniskirt
Shifts her weight to the other foot.

On the way out, passing
The chick in the pink flower miniskirt
You hear a barely audible
"Anytime",
Said as casually as
"Nice day".

Outside you're cool,
But inside there are
Drums pounding Hendrix and
Guitars slashing psyche.

The Essex Football Red Raiders brought pride and glory to Essex High School in 1968-69. The Raiders won eight straight league games and won the SWOSSA Championship against Wallaceburg 12 - 9. This year the team had a "dynamite" offense, gaining over 300 yards in a number of games. In addition, the team's defence formed an iron wall during each game - giving very few points away. With only a few players being lost this year, a repeat of this year's performance is looked for in 1969-70.

Wait 'til next year. Injuries, the bounce of the ball, the spring of the hoop all worked against the Red Raiders this past season. Despite a losing season optimism reigns supreme for 69-70.

"TOO MANY DATES"

How could a girl with not just one but three dates possibly have any worries? On the night of December 13th, 14th and 15th, the Drama Club showed us how with their fall presentation of "Too Many Dates".

The laughter and hearty applause from the audience proved the success of this three-act play, which the sixteen members of the cast well deserved after all their rehearsals and hard work, not to mention the time and patience given by Mr. Morgan, the director, and Mr. Wilson, the producer.

Credit must also be given to those who worked back stage on props, scenery, lighting, sound effects, and to those on advertising, costumes and make-up. Without these people a production is not possible.

At the moment, the Drama Club executive are looking over scripts with plans for a spring performance in mind.

KYIAI

The Judo Club, with Mr. Charrette as instructor, this year opened a new branch of semi-formal education at E.D.H.S.

Eight boys, and some thirty girls, have explored some of the mysteries of this oriental sport, and all agree, that Judo is for young and old alike. It teaches discipline, and respect for all, and provides a ready defence for the weak.

Ducharme's spree highlights SWOSSA

At the sixth annual S.W.O.S.S.A. track and field meet, Wayne Ducharme shattered two long standing records. He broke a 31 year-old 220 yard dash record and a 30 year-old 100 yard dash record. His performance was the highlight of the meet which saw Essex win first place in A-school competition.

This spring we look forward to a repeat performance from Wayne and Essex track and field competitors.

In future years we look forward to enjoying Wayne's skill at Bowling Green University of Ohio.
